

6/4 Class

nhlfrontofficedatabase.com

La Bella works on Highmark Stadium

I Don't need to fit in I am custom made book

2 Classmates: multiple time Emmy winning TV producer who's dad played in MLB and female bodyguard for Mike Tyson

The power of who? Who knows me really well and let them know what you are trying to accomplish

Make list of people you know with organization name and LinkedIn profile

Think of brands you admire or want to work for, geography, and research businesses that aren't sports to see if they are working on sports projects

From? Course taking? Where do you want to go?

6/11 Class

Look into the MLS teams and pickleball around me

Look at Front Office Sports events

Message hiring managers - could use connections to help figure out who the hiring manager is

Call ticketing and ask for a ticketing package, then tell them you're interested in a ticketing package, then say btw I saw this position, do you know who the recruiter is and do you mind if I get their email

6/18 Class

Resume:

Proper file name

Keep it to 1 or 2 pages

Highlight accomplishments and achievements

Have address, phone number, email, and LinkedIn

Start sentences with action verbs

Have different resumes for different opportunities

Someone should be able to tell your values, purpose, passion, and vision for future from your resume

Check resume vs AI robot

add mentored by industry leader in cover letter if true

Find out buzz words in job

Consider sending hard copies

Connect with speakers you hear with note, maybe hard copy note

Reach out multiple ways in case one way it gets lost

If low wage position then may look for local candidates

Cover Letter:

1 page

Add personality and intangibles not on resume

Minimize overly descriptive words

Look at LinkedIn Adriene Bueno company name Arena Sports, may look at your resume and find positions

6/25 Class

Identify teams you have interest in, look at Under Armour and Nike

Podcasts/shorts on social media that you can learn from

Season 3 podcast has interviews

People on LinkedIn have X and Instagram account

Social4ticketsales, Turnkey Sports (Sports Recruiting), Sportsbusinessjournal, CAA sports

Teamwork Online on YouTube has interviews with executives who were recently hired

Repost content

7/9 Class

Interact with people on social media - comment and/or ask for info interview

52 Weeks of Hustle - Travis Apple talks to someone in sports industry every week

Could reach out to university to buy day pass or help set up in exchange for a pass to attend a university career fair

There are a lot of career fairs out there - look up where they are, can Google sports networking events near me

There are also big conferences, networking events, internships, and volunteer opportunities where you can build your network - National Sports Forum, NACDA, etc

Flower City Union wants to hire 3 of the 9 interns that stayed with them come playoff time - internships can lead to something

The National Sports Forum group on LinkedIn

SINC conference

Little things can make a difference and differentiate you

Ask company employee who tells you that you need a certain degree how you can show them your work is transferrable

7/16 Class

Info Interview

Use whatever platform it takes to get a response from person you're trying to informational interview

Ask at end of interview if there are 1 or 2 people in your network who have a similar position to you that I could talk to

Ask things you can't learn from social media

Connect with Yankees contacts on other social media and mention to them when you're going to a Yankees game and see if you can meet up

Clarence Sports Talkative Jones podcast - talks to people working in sports

NBA G-League GMs will take your phone calls

Emphasize you're seeking info and advice, but not looking for a job offer

Interview

Could email resume to people interviewing you before interview and say you're excited to meet them

Overdress, even for virtual calls

Be prepared for out of the box questions

Answer question directly, don't go in circles like politician

Have personality come out, don't be too scripted and rigid

Bring copy of your resume and cover letter

Ask who else you may interview with if you move on

Be persistent but not a pest

If you don't know answer, ask 1 or 2 questions and if you still don't know, say you don't have all the info, I'd like to get more research and get back to you

Scan office for something you can talk about for small talk, maybe a virtual background

References are very important, could be a tiebreaker

If close with reference, have them reach out to hiring manager for role

7/23 Class

A lot of different sports organizations you can work for outside of big 4 sports - AI Company with sports focus

Learn AI if looking for opportunities

He thinks private equity firms are pretty new

He worked for AEG and Schutz Entertainment

Flower City Union 3-month internship led to Bills job for someone